

AMMUNITION

Although I have designed and developed many cartridges and loads, I am no longer in the commercial ammunition business. Full time is devoted to custom tuning and building custom variations of the Auto Mag system. However, as we load our own cartridges for testing our custom guns, we will sell one or two boxes of 50, 357, 41 or 44 cartridges to those customers buying a custom gun @ $27.50 per box of 50 rounds.

Ammunition is available from various custom loaders and both forming and loading dies are available in all four calibers from R.C.B.S.

LEE E. JURRAS

L. E. Jurras, was founder of the Super Vel Cartridge Corp. and innovator of the first commercially available concept of the high performance, high velocity JHP and JSP center-fire handgun cartridges as we know them today. He developed the first domestically available Auto Mag cartridges in 357, 41, & 44 calibers. Prior to Auto Mag developments Jurras had hunted with handguns from Alaska to Africa, promoting the sport of handgun hunting, as well as laboratory and field testing handguns, handgun ammunition and pioneering handgun bullet designs for the sportsman, law enforcement field and various governmental agencies, both in the U. S. and abroad. Tho, his 125 head of medium and large game with a handgun is probably not a total record, it is doubtful if anyone has taken a wider variety of species under more diverse conditions with a handgun. From Alaskan moose, wild range bulls, sharks and crocodiles to the diminutive African steinbok, he feels well qualified to debate the merits of handguns, their cartridges, and projectile designs for the specific needs of the handgunner. To further promote the sport of handguns and handgun hunting Jurras founded the Outstanding American Handgunner Awards Foundation and pioneered the 1st National Handgun Metallic Silhouette Competitions. During the past four years Jurras has specialized in the Auto Mag system. The Auto Mag systems offer the most versatile, powerful, flatest trajectoriied, repeating, hunting handguns in the world today. The Auto Mag is the handgun specialist handgun. Large, sophisticated, and expensive, it is not the handgun for the beginner, casual plinker or the law enforcement officer. Designed for the serious and experienced handgun hunter, or the "one of a kind" collector, the Auto Mag falls into a specialized catagory of its own. From the 4½" barreled "Backpacker" to the 16½" bbl'd "Condor", no repeating handgun can touch its ballistics performance or sheer esoteric beauty.
